

PROJECT EXECUTIVE

Job Title: Project Executive

Location: National

Key Competencies:

Experience in Large projects 250m and above. Projects include Aviation, Hospitality, Hospitals, Stadiums and Large Complex Commercial enterprises.

General Job Description:

The primary role of the Project Executive is to be the project leader ultimately responsible for all aspects of the project's success including a positive referral from the Clients. The Project Executive ensures project success through monitoring the processes, progress and results of the following: Client satisfaction, team effectiveness, employee development, financial goals, quality and schedule. Serving as the liaison between the jobsite, the Business Unit Leader and the main office. Project Executive provides the support and resources that are needed by the Project Manager and Superintendent to perform their duties.

Major Duties and Responsibilities:

- Participate in Business Development
- Lead the Preconstruction Process
- Oversee Project Operations

- Manage Human Resources
- Perpetuate Corporate Culture
- Promote Customer Relations

Qualifications:

- B.S. in Construction Management, Engineering, or related field position.
- Minimum 8-10 years of experience in progressive construction related to Projects to include Aviation, Hospitality, Hospitals, Stadiums and Large Complex Commercial enterprises.

About the Company:

A major International General Contractor based in the USA is going through tremendous growth and is in the process of expanding their executive management team on a national basis. Primary focus is within High-rise, Datacenters, Hospitals, Large Complex Commercial projects, and Aviation.

The company is ranked as one of the largest General Contractors in the world with over $10B in volume annually.

Your leadership skills ultimately matter, and this will be evident in your daily routine and meetings with team members and subordinates. This company has extremely low turnover, above average compensation, and is one that offers a culture of true work/life balance.

Ultimately, this is a hire for your career over the long term which will allow your personal growth in title and compensation. To find out more about this exciting opportunity, please forward DF DeMers Joint Venture Recruitment a resume or phone number to set up your confidential interview.